Summer Program

Come join us for an amazing summer! Our days will be filled with investigating authors while fostering the love of literature, creating projects about different areas of research, enjoying science experiments, and expressing our creativity through arts and crafts. Some of the areas we will be visiting through research and study will be Arizona and Hawaii. Montessori Day School is delighted to announce the themes for summer 2014:

SESSION I: Fitness Fun

Kids enjoy being active and playing games that test their physical endurance and strength. During this session we will demonstrate ways to incorporate fitness activities and exercises into their daily lives that will help to keep them strong, committed, and healthy while still having fun and spending time with friends.

SESSION II: Around the World

Our young explorers will travel new and exciting lands this session while learning about different cultures, foods, people, and traditions around the world. With our passports packed, each traveler will get a chance to experience how other children live around the world.

SESSION III: Experiment with Science

Have you ever wondered why your hair stands up when you rub a balloon on it? Could the white light of the sun really be a spectrum of 7 different colors? Have you ever marveled at what draws magnets together or forces them apart? Well get ready for those inquiries to be investigated through exciting science experiments! Hands on activities will allow your child to learn and discover science through an innovative and creative process.

SESSION IV: Reading Power

The power of reading bridges discovery to many different areas of interest. From nonfiction and informational stories, to fantasy, various books bring stories to life. It is proven that children who are saturated with literacy develop rich language and a deeper comprehension of existence. Together we will enjoy the substance only a book can bring. During this session we will explore an assortment of tundra's and various authors.

SESSION V: Arts and Crafts

If your child loves art then this is the session for him or her. Get creative and imaginative with mixed media! Children enjoy the opportunity to express themselves, their thoughts, and their styles through various art projects.

...So sign up today and join us this summer!
